8. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Wallick Investments relies heavily on quantitative analysis for equity security selection. We have two primary strategies for equities: opportunistic and defensive. For both strategies Wallick Investments, LLC uses a proprietary factor-based security-selection strategy that leverages research data from two well-known independent providers, Morningstar® and Zacks®.

The Wallick Investments' equity selection process identifies companies with the following factors and characteristics:

Opportunistic Factors (Value and Momentum)

- Reasonable valuation ratios
- Strong price and earnings momentum

Defensive Factors (Quality and Low Volatility)

- Above-average growth
- Above-average profitability
- Above-average financial health
- Above average dividend yield
- Low Beta and/or Standard Deviation

Our Core Growth and Aggressive Portfolios slightly over-weights the opportunistic factors, primarily momentum.

Our Dividend Focused Portfolio slightly over-weights the defensive factors overall but focuses most heavily on the valuation opportunistic value factor.

Our Fidelis Portfolio is close to a neutral weighting of both opportunistic and defensive factors.

Our Excelsis Portfolio over weights the defensive factors primarily quality.

Our Defensive strategy (Low Vol) weighs defensive factors more heavily.

Wallick Investments, LLC has one preferred stock strategy. Depending on the interest rate environment, we adjust the allocations to a diversified set of preferred stocks.

Wallick Investments, LLC has one fixed income/bond strategy. Depending on the interest rate environment, we adjust the allocations to a diversified set of fixed income mutual or exchange traded funds.

Wallick Investments, LLC has one hedge fund. Depending on inflation, we adjust the allocations to a diversified set of commodity and currency related mutual or exchanged traded funds.

Investing in equity, fixed income and hedge related securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. The amount of risk (from an academic perspective) is directly correlated with the level of expected return.

All our strategies comply with the US Conference of Catholic Bishops Investment Guidelines.

B. For each of our strategies, there is a “material risk” of loss of principal. Following is the brief discussion of the types of risks associated with all investment strategies.

- Equity risk: the risk that stock prices and/or the implied volatility will change.
- Interest rate risk: the risk that interest rates and/or the implied volatility will change.

For each of our strategies, there is also a “material risk” of loss of principal specific to each model. Following is the brief discussion of the types of risks associated with our specific models.

- Market cap risk: the risk that stock prices and/or the implied volatility will change due specifically to the size of the companies held (Large, Mid, Small).
- Style risk: the risk that interest rates and/or the implied volatility will change due to a specific style of investing (growth, value, momentum, absolute, socially or morally responsible, etc.)
- Currency risk: the risk that foreign exchange rates and/or the implied volatility will change. (Hedge, International)
- Commodity risk: the risk that commodity prices (e.g. corn, copper, crude oil) and/or implied volatility will change. (Hedge)

In addition to the risk associated with all investment strategies and our specific models, the Wallick Investment strategies have risks associated with active management. Active strategies tend to increase portfolio turnover and if a client does not use a broker, such as FOLIOfn, that charges a flat fee based on assets under management, clients’ may incur additional costs. Higher turnover also has the potential to increase taxes associated with capital gains. There is no guarantee that the Wallick Investment selection criteria will add value to clients’ portfolios.

C. Wallick Investments strongly recommends asset allocation and security diversification. Our equity model portfolios maintain sector diversification of plus or minus 8% of the benchmark and all client portfolios are allocated according to the individual clients’ risk tolerance and time horizon. Individual client’s allocations will be defined in their Investment Policy Statements.

12. Brokerage Practices

For all standard client relationships, except where a client has directed Wallick Investments, LLC to use a specific broker, Wallick Investments has the discretion over the custodian/broker to be utilized. For non-discretionary accounts, Wallick Investments, LLC will recommend a broker. Wallick Investments, LLC selects and recommends brokers based on best available price (commissions) and most favorable execution.

Occasionally, clients will request or require Wallick Investments, LLC to select a certain broker-dealer to execute transactions on their behalf. By directing brokerage, clients forego potential benefits from savings on commissions and execution costs that Wallick Investments may be able to obtain for other clients through negotiated volume discounts.

Wallick Investments does not direct brokerage to any broker-dealers as compensation for client referrals and we do not have any commission recapture agreements with broker-dealers under which a portion of the commission dollars are used to pay our operating costs or expenses. We also do not accept “soft dollars” for research provided by any brokers or their affiliates.

Wallick Investments will recommend clients establish a custodian account with select firms. These relationships will allow Wallick Investments to trade directly with that custodian. If a client elects to have another broker/dealer or custodian, we will require them to acknowledge in writing that Wallick Investments will not have authority to negotiate commissions and the best execution may not be achieved. In addition, these clients may pay commission rates higher than our other clients.

13. Review of Accounts

Clients will receive monthly account statements from their custodian and quarterly performance reviews and commentary from Wallick Investments LLC. Clients may also accept a quarterly invitation to set up a meeting to discuss the performance in person or via phone.

All reviews will include analysis of overall portfolio performance. There will be one reviewer for each account. The reviewers will be titled “portfolio manager.” As of January 1, 2018, Daniel T. Wallick, J. Wade Stinnette Jr. and Jacob Wallick are portfolio managers.

14. Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Wallick Investments, LLC does not receive any economic benefit from anyone who is not a client. However, Wallick Investments does enter into written sub-advisory agreements with other third-party advisors to provide investment management services to their clients for a portion of the clients' overall fee. Currently Wallick Investments has one such agreement with Hobbs Group Advisors.

B. Wallick Investments, LLC enters into written agreements with solicitors (referring parties) to refer clients to Wallick Investments, LLC. If a referred client enters into an agreement with Wallick Investments, LLC, a referral fee (based upon a percentage of the client advisory fee generated) is paid to the referring party. The referral arrangement between any referring party and Wallick Investments, LLC will not result in any charges to the client in addition to the normal level of advisory fees charged.

Pursuant to Rule 206(4)-3, in addition to a Wallick Investments, LLC Disclosure Document, a "Solicitor's Separate Written Disclosure," listing compensation to be paid to solicitors, is provided to the client prior to or at the signing of a Wallick Investments, LLC Advisory Agreement.

Applicant's referral agreement is in compliance with the federal regulations as set out in 17 C.F.R. Section 275-206(4)-3, and each client is required to sign a copy of the "Solicitor's Separate Written Disclosure" document at the time of entering into an advisory contract in any jurisdiction. Wallick Investments, LLC will evaluate appropriate risk tolerances and investment time frames for all new clients. Wallick Investments, LLC does not have custody of clients' funds or securities.

16. Investment Discretion

For discretionary accounts, Wallick Investments, LLC has the authority to execute transactions on behalf of the client without obtaining specific client consent. This includes the securities to be bought or sold and amount to buy or sell. The only limitations on the investment authority will be those limitations imposed in writing by the client.

In non-discretionary accounts, the securities to be bought or sold and amount to buy or sell must be approved in advance by the client.

The adviser will also develop with the client (both discretionary and non-discretionary) an investment policy statement which will outline some of the portfolio management parameters such as asset allocation and stock selection criteria as well as any client-imposed restrictions.
